SELECTED WRITINGS

Single Stroke Caesar

Written to become a book for special collection. Single Stroke Caesar is an investigation of the unfolding events of the Syrian whistleblower, codenamed Caesar, told through the imaginary perspective of Caesar. This writing is inspired by the single stroke battle scene format used often in Japanese film and animation. The format was chosen for its duality and adapted from a battle of sword wielding warriors to a battle between two perspectives going on in Caesar's head that are imagined by the author.

Leave Me Alone

A play about two artists of color who get invited to do a big project for the Marrakech Biennial in Morocco. As they decide on a project involving real refugees enacting incidents from the Egyptian revolution in 2011 a real revolution amongst the refugees happen in opposition to the Biennial with the two artists stuck in the middle. The play's commission and original idea was conceived by Karthik Pandian and Andros Zins-Browne.

Ghosts of Freedom

A collection of fictionalized theatrical scenes based on documentary material on the war atrocities suffered by women in war in Syria.

Postcard Picture

A short film about the empathy found between refugees from different backgrounds after one of them tries to mug the other.
